

Master of Healthcare Innovation

MHI

A fully-online, interdisciplinary master's program

Edson College of Nursing and Health Innovation

Arizona State University

LEAD the transformation of health care

The Master of Healthcare Innovation is a fully-online, interdisciplinary master's program that prepares students to search for sustainable solutions to today's health care challenges. With a curriculum built from the latest health care trends and supported by faculty and professionals from across disciplines, MHI ensures you have the tools needed to facilitate change throughout the industry.

No
GRE

Multiple Start Dates

Fully-Online

Designed for Your Success

With no GRE scores required and multiple start dates each year, this fully-online, 34-credit MHI program is designed to be flexible for active adult learners. All core courses are offered in 7.5 week sessions, with students typically completing the program in 16 months.

Introduction to innovation methods

Understanding and applying evidence-based practice

Health care policy and economics

IT strategy in health care

Systems thinking in complex environments

Leadership for innovation

The SMART choice for your Career

Competitive Edge

When looking at other degree programs, I found them focused on just public policy or just health care finance. The MHI program takes all of those pieces and creates a way to look at complex problems to actually cause action and bring change.

- Erin Kuroiwa, MHI Graduate

Respected Credentials

I believe the MHI program prepares our industry leaders with the knowledge and the mindset to fundamentally change the way we think of the medical delivery system.

- Jim Flinn, CEO, St. Luke's Medical Center

Sense of Purpose

As I look ahead to my future in health care leadership, I am confident that I have the skills and knowledge to succeed thanks to the MHI Program. MHI has not just been a degree for me, but it has become a way of life and practice.

- Kevin Meek, MHI Graduate

The MHI logo is a white circle containing the letters "MHI" in a bold, dark red font. It is positioned on the right side of the page, overlapping a background of diagonal lines and a circular architectural element.

MHI

Careers with Your MHI

MHI graduates have access to a wide variety of career paths, due to our emphasis on interdisciplinary collaboration of clinical, operations, and systems perspectives. Graduates gain the leadership skills needed to influence the future of health care and transform outcomes for consumers and communities.

Lead change at all levels of health care

Facilitate idea generation of innovative health care solutions

Serve as an industry project manager

Advance research and practice in health care

Innovate as intrepeneurs and entrepreneurs

Influence and create health care policy

ASU Online

Arizona State University

Contact MHI Program Director

Rick Hall, PhD, RDN, FAND

healthcareinnovation@asu.edu

mhi.asu.edu

nursingandhealth.asu.edu